

Date : Wednesday May 10
Time : 12.00 – 13.00
Room : B21 (first floor of Hall B2)

The Changing Role of Logistics Hubs in future supply chains

With reshoring trends and new supply chain strategies in various industry verticals the role of logistics hubs (seaports/inland ports/intermodal terminals) will change. Does reshoring of production capacity back to Europe mean less business for seaports, but more flows within Europe? Will we have more distribution centers and assembly/production activities in warehouses than ever before?

Based on recent strategic studies for leading international manufacturers and brand owners Kees Verweij, partner at Buck Consultants International will present in a thought provoking presentation his view on how logistics hubs in Europe will (not) benefit from changes in supply chains from an end-to-end perspective.

Moderated by René Buck, CEO of Buck Consultants International, a panel of experts will discuss the topic.

Registration (free of charge): via THIS LINK